DESCRIPTION

Villa Mount Ronda is an extraordinary Andalusian estate set amidst the rolling countryside just outside Ronda. Spanning more than 800 m² of living space, this romantic cortijo-style residence blends traditional Andalusian architecture with luxurious modern comforts, creating a private retreat surrounded by beautiful landscapes and panoramic mountain views.

Defined by its distinctive turrets, chapels, apses and traditional terracotta roof tiles, the villa captures the character of a historic Andalusian finca while offering the amenities expected of a luxury contemporary escape. The estate also includes a separate guesthouse, stables and a paddock for the resident horse, making it a truly unique countryside retreat.

Elegant Interiors with Timeless Character

From the moment you enter the grounds, Villa Mount enchants with its cobbled courtyard and central fountain, evoking the charm of a bygone era. Inside, patterned floor tiles, dark wood detailing and Moorish influences create a warm and sophisticated atmosphere throughout.

The impressive double-height dining room serves as the heart of the home, featuring abundant greenery, decorative details and a dining table seating up to eight guests. Nearby, a cosy library and second sitting room provide a quiet retreat for reading and relaxation.

Meanwhile, the spacious main living room combines traditional character with contemporary comfort. Exposed beams, flagstone floors and a striking open fireplace are complemented by modern furnishings, including leather sofas and elegant glass-topped tables.

Traditional Kitchen & Entertaining Spaces

The fully equipped kitchen is both welcoming and functional, featuring a farmhouse-style breakfast table and rustic wooden seating. Traditional design elements sit alongside premium appliances, offering the perfect balance of authenticity and convenience.

Furthermore, doors from the kitchen, dining room and living room open onto a covered terrace where guests can enjoy al fresco dining for up to 40 guests while admiring the surrounding scenery.

Seven Characterful Bedrooms

Villa Mount Ronda accommodates guests across seven individually designed bedrooms, each reflecting a blend of influences ranging from rural England and Indonesian craftsmanship to Italian Renaissance style.
