DESCRIPTION

The Beach House – A Luxury Coastal Retreat Downderry Above the Sea

Seven years ago, the current owners recognised the site's potential. Over the following three years, they reimagined the original house entirely. As a result, the property now feels fully embedded in the landscape. Clean lines, carefully controlled light and natural materials work together to create calm, contemporary luxury anchored by the ever-present horizon.

Light-Filled Interiors Designed Around the View

Inside, expansive glazing dissolves the boundary between interior and sea. Consequently, every principal room captures a shifting coastal panorama. Organic finishes introduce warmth and texture, while the layout unfolds gradually to reveal framed views at every turn.

Lighting and acoustics, both designed by the owner, shape the mood throughout the day. Meanwhile, the kitchen forms a welcoming social hub. A bespoke DeVOL kitchen with Sebastian Cox cabinetry combines craftsmanship with understated elegance, making family feasts and relaxed entertaining effortless.

Infinity Pool, Hot Tub and Expansive Sea Views

Outside, terraces extend naturally from the living spaces and create seamless indoor-outdoor flow. The gardens follow the gentle slope of the hillside and offer multiple spaces to gather, cook and unwind.

The infinity pool appears to merge with the sea beyond, delivering uninterrupted coastal views. In addition, a hot tub and outdoor bar enhance the sense of retreat. You can snorkel or paddleboard at Seaton below, watch the sunset from the terrace, or simply relax among seasonal blooms that honour the flower farm that once stood on the land.

Perfectly positioned between Downderry and Seaton, this luxury coastal retreat Downderry offers privacy, space and immediate access to Cornwall's south coast.

Life at The Beach House moves slowly — shaped by sea air, shifting light and uninterrupted views.
