Maddox

Maddox is an exquisite property designed by world-famous architect Oliver Messel. Located on a desirable beach on the West Coast, Maddox is dreamy and peaceful, a truly special piece of Barbados's architectural history. It is no wonder that Messel made Maddox his personal home in Barbados after meticulously restoring it in the 1950s. Designed with Greek columns, large balconies, and local coral stone, Messel's exquisite eye for detail is evident around every corner. The property has been lovingly maintained, with lush grounds and thoughtful, sophisticated interiors.
