DESCRIPTION

A group of up to 10 guests will enjoy a very substantial home, set over three levels, all looking out to the Aegean Sea. The villa has been built in keeping with the local architecture, using local stone and featuring wooden elements. From the garden, verandas and outdoor spaces you will take in the sea and island views and relax and recharge in peace and comfort. On the ground floor you will spend time in the villa's sizeable living area which has a working fireplace, high ceilings and superb views. Walk out onto the veranda and enjoy the amazing vista over the Aegean and Andros island. There is a large dining area and an open plan, fully equipped kitchen. This is an airy and comfortable space for you to enjoy. There are altogether five bedrooms, four double and one with twin beds, and four bathrooms. Throughout the house you can just look out of windows and enjoy beautiful sea and island views.

You will have access to a fully equipped and independent villa, with a private shaded terrace and a private pedestrian road which leads to a beautiful sandy beach.

The residence is set near the village of Stenies, a short drive from the main Andros town Hora, where you will be able to find all essential shopping. It is part of a group of five homes, all with private entrances and private outdoors areas. All five homes have direct access to a beautiful sandy beach and there is a taverna nearby.

4 km away, in quaint Hora, you will find stylish shops, excellent restaurants, bars and museums, including one of Greece's best-known modern art museums.

Andros is a paradise for walkers, with a number of different trails and also features superb beaches.

To best enjoy your stay in our home and Andros we recommend you hire a car. There is free parking on the premises.

Hora is just 4 km away and the main port of Andros, Gavrio, around 40km.

You can walk down the path to the beach, which also has a beach bar. There is also a taverna 1' up the hill from the villa.
For everything else you will need a car.
