Villa Cowen

An impressive private villa, Villa Cowen offers guests a wonderful location in northern Sardinia, Porto Rotondo, well known as Smeralda coast. Technology and great comfort make this villa very special apart from the area in which it is situated, immersed in the countryside along with other villas on one of the most exclusive coastlines. There is private access directly from the villa to the beach, 180 metres away (3 minutes walks). The beaches in Italy are never privately owned but in this case, the only people using this beach are guests of Villa Cowen and other occasional guests of the nearby villas.

DESCRIPTION

The well-maintained garden, slopes gently towards the swimming pool, which is equipped with a swim against the current system and is heated by solar panels which allow the temperature to rise 4° C or 5° C higher than the environment. An outdoor kitchen area, built in granite table and benches is close to the pool.

The large open-plan living/dining area is simple but stylishly decorated with light-colored, modern furnishings and terracotta tiles throughout. In particular, the dining area is very light thanks to a large window which extends nearly the whole wall and allows you to admire the sea from indoors. This room opens onto a large terrace with an outdoor sitting and dining area with views towards the sea and garden. The property has sheltered parking for 4 cars, a private SPA and a gym, a personal trainer can be arranged on request. At about 100mt from the garden of the villa, you have private access to the facilities of the Beach Club Marina Piccola with 10,000 m2 gardens, a swimming pool, a secluded beach with up to 2 sun umbrellas and 8 sun beds exclusively for Villa Cowen's guests. The club nearby is Centro Vela Marina Piccola di Punta Lada.
