DESCRIPTION

The restoration of this historical palace walking distance to the beach dates back to the 1930s and has been made by some of the highest-profile architects and designers who turned it into a top luxury vacation home while preserving its historical look.

The property lies in the heart of a resort town, just a minute walk away from the charming sandy beaches of the Tyrrhenian Sea.

The celebration of luxury and solemnity is underlined by golden swirls of the furniture and majestic crystal chandeliers. Natural fabrics are combined to give the palazzo an air of ultimate sophistication in addition to the highest standard of the services offered to the guests. During the renovation, interior designers used exclusive fabrics, including linen, silk, jacquard satin, and batiste. Canvas and leather were used for the purposes of upholstery. The palace features four floors; on the ground floor, there are two living rooms, a dining room and a cocktail area, a bar, two working spaces, a cinema, and a spa centre with a heated internal swimming pool, sauna, Turkish bath, emotional shower, a massage room and gym. The three upper floors host ten suites, each featuring a dressing room and a bathroom for the guests' utmost comfort.

Villa Jenkins represents an ideal location for shopping and for spending time under the sun in one of the nearby luxury beach clubs. For those who like cycling, there is a dedicated pathway close to the property. Within walking distance from the palace, guests can enjoy a fenced private beach which is especially valuable in Forte dei Marmi where public beaches are flooded with tourists during the summer months. The beach offers two sunshade patios for the cosy chillout and relaxed sunbathing and a wide variety of water activities along with the relevant sports equipment and a beach gym and swimming pool. Villa Jenkins is the perfect choice for all those wanting to immerse themselves in the sumptuous Tuscan luxury only a few meters away from the Italian sea.
