DESCRIPTION

Inspired by the vernacular architecture, the whole structure is a cluster of efficiently arranged cubes painted stark-white to create a beautiful contrast with the colors of the sea and the sky. The interior is organized around an internal stone-paved courtyard that seems to be carved into the rock that surrounds it. Peppered with colorful flowers, this hidden oasis features a comfortable pergola-shaded dining and lounging area with built-in sofa and an open-sky jakuzzi. At the front of the courtyard, a small terrace offers unobstructed views of the Mykonian seascape.

A wooden door leads from the courtyard to a living room with adjacent dining area, which is also accessed through the main entrance. Modern elements blend seamlessly into the décor granting a contemporary twist to the brutal sculptural forms of the 70s. The walls are painted stark-white allowing for display of carefully selected artworks. The bold geometric patterns of the minimal furnishings are accentuated by the polished concrete flooring. The minimalistic ornamentation and lack of color draws attention to the large window which offers fabulous views of the Aegean. The kitchen is ultra-modern and fully equipped to serve cooking enthusiasts. An interesting mezzanine that is used as a lounging area leads to the courtyard, which in turn leads to the rest of the living areas. The bedrooms are designed in the same concept, with stark-white surfaces and beddings creating an ultimately relaxing atmosphere. Wood-framed windows offer soothing views of the harbor and let the cool night breezes in.
