DESCRIPTION

This fabulous luxury home, which takes its name from the Mayan word for together, was built for coexistence. Its elegant open floor plan creates a homey gathering space that fuses the indoors with the outdoors and lets nature in. So whether you are chilling in the lounge, spending some time at the pool, or simply taking in the stunning natural surroundings, you will always be close to the landscape and to one another.

Polished concrete walls and wooden furnishings give Villa Moloch an effortlessly sophisticated look. It's also a foodie's dream. A personal chef available on call and there's even a woodfired in case you feel like showing off your cooking skills. Each of the cozy bedrooms has access to the common balcony, the perfect spot to spend lazy afternoons and catch amazing sunsets. And outside, the pool, jacuzzi, and wooden deck give way to a private beach stretch adorned with coco palms, itself the prelude to the astounding beauty of the bay.

With crystal-clear waters and a coral reef just meters away from the white-sand shore, Soliman Bay is snorkeling heaven. It is also one of the most intimate places in the Riviera Maya, isolated from the outside world by the coast on one side and the lush jungle on the other. Located just a 15-minute drive away from bustling Tulum, it's the perfect place to have privacy surrounded by nature and still be able to experience everything the Mexican Caribbean has to offer.
