DESCRIPTION

Sleeping eight, there are four equally restful bedrooms to choose from. Thick curtains ensure a good night's sleep amongst luxurious linens, and within the pristine en-suite bathrooms you'll find indulgent Molton Brown products to enjoy.

In this generously proportioned home, space and comfort are in abundance. With three reception rooms, whether it's the cosy snug or the sunlit orangery, you'll always find a quiet corner in which to unwind. On cooler days, sink into one of the plush sofas by the wood burning stove, book in hand – there's no better way to relax.

Enormous care and attention has been channelled into making Farrington House a haven. Refined elegance – balancing the clean lines of the stone floors and beautiful built-in joinery with sumptuous upholstery, results in an uncluttered but warm and welcoming environment. Antiques nest comfortably with modern pieces, with part of the original 17th century wall displayed next to the sitting room fireplace.

Equal thought has been given to the light-filled kitchen, which is equipped for any foodie adventure, making it the perfect place to gather, sip a glass, and cook together. Enjoy your meals in the inviting dining room, designed for shared moments and long evenings spent in good company.

When the sun shines, step outside to the generous garden; its size a true rarity in Chichester's city centre. Here, the courtyard is lined with mature borders and stocked with topiary. Immaculate and formal, this space offers two areas for enjoyment: a laid-back seating area, and a separate dining area. Despite the property's conveniently central location, this is a spot that offers remarkable tranquility.

And of course, when you're ready to explore, Chichester's shops, restaurants, and theatre are all just a few minutes from your door. With parking for two cars, it's easy to set off for a ramble around the countryside or along the coast. A base for a grown-up break, Farrington House has cosy allure during spring or winter – but whatever the season, escape with your favourite group, settle in, and enjoy the city's sights.
