DESCRIPTION

The terraced gardens with the house on the upper level lead down to the sandy beach and offer gorgeous southerly views across a surf break and out to sea. The pool is on the level below the house with steps leading from it down to the final level with the private beach gate. The seasonal blue whale feeding area is directly offshore and boats leave to see them approx. 5 mins from the villa.

The enticing turquoise salt-water pool sits between the villa and the ocean, with an alfresco shower tucked into the steps, leading down to the beach. Between mid-December and early April, there is a left-hand surf break that experienced surfers can paddle out from the beach gate
