DESCRIPTION

Italian hardwood floors run the length of the large open plan kitchen and living area. Deluxe handpicked furnishings, modern art, and a top-of-the-range kitchen, in what we can only describe as Aegean blue.

The meticulous design of the villa ensures it's a view you can enjoy from almost anywhere. The terrace seating areas, dining suite, even the outdoor kitchen with its gas barbecue and bar area are open-sided to offer no interruption to your own personal vista. On the lower ground level likewise, a neat and private internal garden leading into a children's play area runs out towards the sea.

Four bedroom suites open out onto this garden area. If you're looking for some downtime, you'll find a sanctuary in these oasis' of calm, with their brilliant white finish, cool Italian marble ensembles, and Jacuzzi baths. Two more bedrooms top the house, swapping garden views for a personal balcony. What better place to pop a cork and drink a toast to the holiday highlife?

There can be no question that Villa Pangolin 3 has everything you could wish for during a relaxed and enjoyable stay. Its location opens up a wider world of opportunities for exploration. It's just a short walk to the sweet little village of Plaka. Its quintessential Greek vibe and warm hospitality is a temptation too much, and you'll find yourself strolling back and forth as the mood takes you. In easy reach by car, the wider Elounda region is the holiday destination of choice for society's 'elite', with its lovely beaches and tavernas. The area's rich history comes back to life from the ruins of the ancient city of Olous, but the top of your bucket list should be a boat trip out to the island of Spinalonga. Don't forget to look back towards the shore to catch a glimpse of Villa Pangolin 3 graduating up the hill from the sea.
