DESCRIPTION

Luxury Villa with Two Heated Infinity Pools

This luxury villa with two heated infinity pools offers a striking private retreat with a tower-like main building and a separate stone cottage. Villa Haddock combines dramatic architecture, panoramic bay views, and excellent outdoor living spaces. As a result, it works well for families or groups who want privacy, comfort, and a distinctive stay near Chania.

The complex includes four luxury en-suite bedrooms in the main tower building, with The Cottage set separately to the left. This luxury villa with two heated infinity pools also includes a lap pool, an endless pool, shaded terraces, outdoor kitchen, dining areas, ramps, Wi-Fi throughout, and private access to the entire site.

The three levels are connected by a green central communication core, which enhances the tower feeling from inside. Therefore, the property feels both architectural and practical for relaxed group holidays.

Heated Pools and Outdoor Living

The villa has two heated infinity pools. The lap pool sits at ground floor level and is ideal for swimming laps.

It can be accessed directly from the two ground-floor bedrooms. Alternatively, guests can reach it by steps from The Cottage or from the endless pool, passing the statue water feature.

The endless pool is located at first-floor level. In addition, a shaded terrace sits beside it, close to the outdoor kitchen and dining area.

Outdoor Kitchen and Dining Terraces

The large terrace includes a shaded, fully equipped outdoor kitchen. It also has a dining area, making it a perfect place for open-air meals.

A second nearby terrace area offers additional space, although it has no shade. As a result, guests can choose between sunny and shaded outdoor settings.

Ramps from the first and second floors provide easy access to the pool and terrace areas. Therefore, movement between the villa's levels and outdoor spaces feels smooth and convenient.

Living Area and Bay Views

The top floor contains the main living area and fully equipped kitchen. This elevated position makes the most of the villa's spectacular views.

A large covered and hanging balcony opens from this level. It offers sweeping views over the whole bay and creates a memorable place for relaxing.

The open design supports sociable group living. Moreover, the combination of indoor comfort and balcony scenery makes this floor a standout feature of Villa Haddock.

Bedrooms and Guest Comfort

The four large bedrooms in the main tower have comfortable king-size beds. Two of these beds can be separated to create single beds if needed.

Each bedroom has a walk-in shower and double sinks, giving guests plenty of personal space. In addition, open wardrobes offer hanging space, shelves, drawers, and large wooden surfaces for writing or books.

All internal and external windows have blinds for privacy and light control. The two ground-floor bedrooms have walk-out access to the lap pool, while the two first-floor bedrooms have walkway access to the endless pool and leisure area.

Chania Location and Private Access

Guests have full and private access to the entire site. Wi-Fi is available throughout the property, adding convenience during the stay.

Chania offers a wide range of dining, from gyros to fine dining. Meanwhile, the retreat is only a few minutes from the Souda to Akrotiri road.

The national road can be reached in around 20 minutes, making day trips easy. With its two heated infinity pools, tower-style design, stone cottage, four en-suite bedrooms, outdoor kitchen, ramps, bay-view balcony, Wi-Fi, and access towards Elafonissi, Falassarna, Rethymnon, and beyond, Villa Haddock offers a memorable Cretan retreat.
